Discipline Philosophy: What do you believe about discipline and classroom management?

Beliefs about Classroom Environment
Brochure is separately attached on Blackboard

Philosophy of Education

Parent Involvement
- Parents need to be informed of how students are performing
  - Strengths and Weaknesses
- If parents are knowledgeable of the content being taught in the classroom then they can help students at home which will help to higher student achievement
- If parents show an interest in what their child is doing it will help the child to work toward success because the parents care as well as the child

Student Ownership
- Students must take pride and ownership in their work
- If students are having a hard time they must continue to try until the succeed
- Students have to want to succeed and learn even when it is hard
• If a student needs help they cannot be afraid to ask for help as it only makes them better and learn the content

Teacher Responsibilities
- The teacher must know that they are a role model for their students and they will be looked up to through their whole career so they must be a good model for their students.
- The teacher is the most important factor in student learning as they teach the lessons, model the behavior, and help to make sure the student understands.
- Teachers set the mood of the classroom for the day and the year; they must always keep a positive and encouraging attitude.

Classroom Environment
- Students must feel safe and accepted in their classroom
- The room must be easily accessible and usable by all students (including those with disabilities)
- The environment affects instruction it should be inviting, friendly, and encouraging to all students

Curriculum Adaptations
- Student work must be individualized to fit different types of learning styles
- Instruction types should vary to allows students to have multiple ways to learn content
- Doing this ensures that students have the opportunity to learn to the best of their ability

Theories or researchers with whom you identify and why
The first theorist I identify with is Jacob Kounin. I feel that many of the things he has researched and believes to work with classroom management share the beliefs that I have. The first point of Kounin’s that I strongly agree with his main idea of teacher withitness. This is something that is so important to me in my hopes as a future classroom manager. I firmly agree with his beliefs that the teacher must be aware of what is going on in his or her classroom at all times; to do this I feel it is important to constantly be aware of the surroundings as well as to be able to teach and manage my classroom at the same time. Kounin strongly believes that preventing problems before they occur is a major way to help prevent misbehaviors. A final point for Kounin that is so important for classroom management is the idea of keeping the students accountable and utilizing group accountability. By allowing all students the opportunity to answer the questions the teacher is helping them to learn the material as well as learn to have the confidence to answer a question because they are not the only one answering. I feel that this is extremely important to allow the teacher to see if the students understand without calling on a student who does not understand or does not have the correct answer. I strongly agree that Kounin has good teaching theories that allow for teachers too not only teach but to also keep control and manage their classroom.

The second theorist I chose was Harry Wong. There are many things that I love and plan to use in my classroom from Harry Wong. His models for effective teaching are wonderful assets that I wish to use in my classroom. For example the idea of creating an effective assignment by creating the test and study guide together to ensure that the objectives are being covered and not missed is a great way to know that your lesson plan and study guide teach what is on the test to the students. I also really like the setup of discipline plans that Harry has used in his book. The idea of a hierarchy of consequences and rewards has helped me to learn about discipline and create a plan for my own classroom. In addition, his topics of general and specific rules helped me to decide what types of rules I want to use with my students in my classroom. I have really enjoyed reading The First Days of School and plan to use the book as a guide in my future teaching with classroom management. I feel that Harry has effective methods that really do work for classroom management and I think I agree with his theories and findings more than any other theorist.

Dear ____,

Hello, my name is Miss Stinson and I am your 3rd grade teacher this year! I am so excited to meet you in a few weeks. The first day of school is Monday August 15th. School will start at 8:30 am. Our room number is 19. I will be standing outside it to greet you! I am looking forward to meeting you in just a few weeks! Have a great rest of your summer!

Sincerely,

Miss Stinson
Dear Parents and Guardians,

Hello! As summer is coming to its end and school is approaching in the next few weeks, I would like to take some time to introduce myself to you. My name is Sarah Stinson and I am your child’s 3rd grade teacher this for the 2016-2017 school year. I graduated from Ball State University in 2016 and received a bachelor’s degree in both elementary and special education. This is my first year teaching and I am so excited to be here at Burnett Creek Elementary.

I would like to invite you to attend a before-school informational meeting on Wednesday, August 10th at 7:30 pm in our classroom Room 19. This meeting is for parents and guardians only as we will be discussing my classroom procedures, my classroom management plan, and upcoming events. If you cannot attend this meeting, I would love to set up a meeting with you and discuss these items as well as answer any questions you may have.

While we will be discussing it at the meeting, I would like to introduce you to my classroom management plan. I will be sending a copy home of my classroom procedures, I ask that you discuss them with your child, and that you and your child sign it so that I know you have read and understood these procedures. Classroom management is incredibly important in creating the best learning environment for your child. This plan will help to ensure that your student develops a sense of responsibility when it comes to their behaviors and actions. Students will be encouraged with rewards and praise for good classroom behavior. This will be further explained in the management plan that you will receive and will be discussed at our informational meeting.

We have so much to learn this year and I cannot wait to get started. This year we will be focusing on the living environment in science and we will be growing our very own ecosystems! In social studies, we will be focusing on community and how people through history have shaped our community as well as what it means to be in a community. In math, we will be covering measurement to problem-solving, and I have many fun activities planned for the year! We will be discussing the field trips for the upcoming year at our meeting, but a preview of some includes a trip to the Indiana State Museum and to Purdue University Agricultural Department. Dates and details for these will be coming soon! I would love to have Parent help on the trips and in the classroom, if you are interested please feel free to let me know!

I am available for you through email at sastinson2@bsu.edu. I check my email regularly everyday and respond as quickly as possible and always within 24 hours of your email. I also can be reached at my school phone number (765) 743-2456 ext. 123 during school hours. I will be in my classroom by 7:30 am each day and I typically will stay until about 4:30 pm. You are welcome to contact me anytime with questions or concerns. I am also able to schedule appointments with you, my schedule is rather flexible but I just ask that you understand that time conflicts may arise.

I am so excited for this year to begin and I know it will be a wonderful year with your students. As I have said before please do not hesitate to contact me with any comments, questions, and concerns. I am so excited to get to know your student and am looking forward to seeing them grow this year! I look forward to meeting you and your child soon!

Sincerely,
Sarah Stinson
First Bellwork Assignment

Students will follow the directions on the board and fill out the get to know you worksheet. (Example below)

Above is a computer drawing of my future classroom setup. I have placed the student desks in a cluster/island setup. I will plan to already have the students’ seats assigned by having nametags on the desks and student learning groups already created.

Areas of the Classroom

Carpet Area
The carpet area would be where the whole class would meet and do interactive activities such as morning meetings and read aloud books as a class. The carpet area is good place to create a community feel in the classroom and to allow students to be included. I also placed the carpet area next to the silent reading and classroom library to allow extra space for students to spread out during silent reading.
Library and Silent Reading Corner
The silent reading corner and library would be an area for students to relax and individually read books. The books on the bookshelves would be labeled by reading level so students would be able to determine what book would be at the right level for their ability. The silent reading area could also become a cooling off spot if students need a break from a situation and need a minute to calm down.

Entrance Area
This area would include the student lockers, the door, the attendance board, the sink, and first aid station (with the trashcan and recycling next to it). This area would be easy access to the door, which would allow students to place their items in their locker right away. The attendance board would also be close by the door making it easy for students to move their cards and start the day. The sink and first aid station is more out of the way but still within proximity to the door. Finally the trashcan and recycling bin would be next to the sink, which would allow for easy disposal of paper towels as well as trash pickup during the dismissal procedure.

Teacher Desk
This is my desk; I have it placed in the back corner of the room. I have placed it here so it is not the center of attention and because the angle allows for me to see the entire room from my desk, which allows for me to see what my students are doing as well as to check on them. I have my desk away from the door so that when visitors come in it is not the first thing they see and so that my student files and documents are not as easily accessible. I have filing cabinets next to my desk to keep old lesson plans and information about students such as IEPs or emergency contract information.
Student Desks
I have placed the student desks in cluster/island shapes to allow students to work in learning groups. The arrangement of the clusters/islands allow for me to work the crowd and get around to help my students when they need it. There is a white board on the backside of the student desks and another whiteboard with a smartboard at the front of the room to allow students to see examples and directions from different angles.
